Alpha Center for Divorce Mediation Expands, Adds Jamie Dancer Kloin, Esquire Attorney-Mediator

Philadelphia, PA, February 2016 — The Alpha Center for Divorce Mediation has named Jamie Dancer Kloin, Esquire as attorney-mediator, covering the offices in Willow Grove, Doylestown, Newtown and Allentown. Kloin has over a decade of experience representing private clients and municipal clients in family, land development and municipal matters. After graduating from the University of Miami Law School, she held position in several law firms, most recently with Hladik, Onorato & Federman, LLP in North Wales.

Ms. Kloin comes to Alpha Center as a former client who used their unique 7 Step Divorce Program[™] when she went through her own divorce. According to Kloin, “My ex and I are both attorneys and when we decided to divorce, we agreed that we wanted to avoid litigation. So we turned to Alpha. Because our experience with Alpha had an incredibly positive effect on our actual divorce process, as well as our post-divorce lives and continued relationship as co-parents, it was a logical step in my career to become an Attorney-Mediator with Alpha.”

Alpha Center’s unique interdisciplinary approach, pioneered over 20 years ago, ensures that every aspect of each client’s divorce mediation process is handled at an exceptional level of expertise and compassion. Alpha’s 7-Step Divorce Mediation Program[™], includes a team of professionals — attorneys, therapists and financial counselors who help people chart a course through the divorce mediation process that leaves them in a position to start a new life. And beyond that, their wrap around organization, the Alpha Resource Center offer resources to help them navigate the challenges of post-divorce life and remarriage decisions.
